

Supply Chain & Transport Industry Charter for Humanitarian Supply Chain Resilience

Recognizing the impact of multi-stakeholder collaborative action, and value of broad industry engagement in support of global humanitarian response, we, as members of the supply chain, transport, and logistics industries, express our support for resilience and capacity building of humanitarian supply chains. This, to better prepare for humanitarian aid logistics, with the goal of ensuring continued access to essential supplies for vulnerable populations, addressing a critical component for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals

We will focus our best efforts as a strong collective on supporting the humanitarian community, subject to internal regulations, and thereby intend to:

- i. Engage with governments, customs authorities, and humanitarian organizations to enter into private-public partnerships, as appropriate, that ensure fast, prioritized, and safe global movement of humanitarian supplies to accelerate inclusive humanitarian aid response for vulnerable communities
- ii. Participate in operational asset and competency sharing, as appropriate, and where requested by UN Agencies and NGOs, to resolve bottlenecks and fill potential gaps in humanitarian supply chains.
- iii. Support humanitarian organizations with prioritization and solutions for international and in country distribution of humanitarian aid and related supplies. Provide support to requests for information, response, resources, including expertise, assets and emergency calls for action

This document does not represent a formal engagement. If further documents shall be issued to execute the purpose of this charter, they shall comply with the proper assessment and formalities according to internal regulations.
