

LAOS

Did you know that Laos is the only landlocked country in South-East Asia?

Surrounded by neighboring countries Cambodia, China, Myanmar, Thailand, and Vietnam, Laos is the only landlocked country in South-East Asia. But, 'land-locked' should instead be 'land-linked.' Significant infrastructure projects to connect through and across the county are transforming Laos into a land bridge offering the most direct route between neighboring countries.

The Laotian way of turning circumstances into new solutions is integral to our local team's approach.

As a long-term, preferred partner to the garment industry, we know how to stitch together the best transport and supply chain solution to serve your requirements. Whether by flight, tollways or the brand-new electrified Laos-China high-speed train, we are your local suppliers of uncomplicated multimodal transport services intra-Asia and anywhere in the world.
